CSN to Host CyberCamp

Local middle and high school students can attend for free and learn real-world cybersecurity skills

LAS VEGAS, June 11, 2018 – The College of Southern Nevada is proud to host the Air Force Association’s CyberCamp this month.

The free camp is designed to get middle and high school students excited about science and tech careers and teach them important cyber defense skills through hands-on instruction and activities. It runs from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. June 25-29 in Building A on the college’s North Las Vegas Campus.

“This is an excellent opportunity for the next generation of tech leaders to develop the skills that are critical to our state and our nation’s future,” said Michael Spangler, dean of CSN’s School of Advanced and Applied Technologies. “These camps emphasize fun, hands-on learning in cybersecurity and STEM fields in ways that are relevant to everyday life.”

Any student who was in the 7th through 11th grades during the 2017-2018 school year can attend. The deadline to sign up is June 17.
