

CSN Offers Dog-Tired Students a Break

Love Dog Adventures' therapy dogs make a return to campus as final exams approach

November 5, 2018 – No one knows better than a librarian how much students need a break and a recharge as the semester winds down and final exams loom.

Which is why the CSN Libraries have a tradition of inviting a group of cuddly therapy dogs to campus every semester to help students relax. This month, a group of therapy dogs from Love Dog Adventures will visit the libraries on all three CSN campuses.

CSN has received overwhelmingly positive feedback in recent years after the Love Dogs visit. Love Dog Adventures is a non-profit, all-volunteer animal assisted therapy program. Students are able to hold and pet the dogs in lounge areas of the libraries. The media are invited to attend.
